Please be informed that most content of IGR is available without login details. However the abstracts and editors selection sections are currently only accessible for registered members of participating glaucoma societies. Members are required to register once. During this process membership is verified, and a username and password are chosen. We kindly request you to inform your members to complete the online IGR subscription form, which you can download by clicking here, in case they have lost their IGR-id or if they would like to subscribe, so they will be receiving future issues of IGR directly.
